

Mark died of cancer at the age of 59 and spent most of his life in Burbank where he was active with the Burbank Family YMCA. He was a realtor with Century 21 Ditton Realty, specializing in selling properties in the high country, where he loved riding his Harley through the mountains.